“All veterans are encouraged to attend the discussions of veteran needs vs. veteran services available, especially disabled veterans, female veterans, American Indian veterans and elderly veterans,” said Donald L. Ewing, Wyoming Military Department Veterans Commission state director. “Members of Wyoming veteran organizations, local government officials and State Legislators are also encouraged to attend.”

As an incentive to attend, there will be a drawing for one $50 gift certificate at the end of each focus group meeting.

During the focus group, Earl DeGroot, consultant for the project, will make a short presentation about the purpose of the project and the focus group. Following, there will a question and answer session focusing on long-term care issues veterans face.
